Explore the public website at mintnerve.com. Existing customers keep their account and subscription. This update does not require another setup fee or a second membership.

Get started

1. Sign in with the same email as your membership purchase. New users can create an account and verify their email if requested.

2. Use Forgot password if you need recovery. Existing reset links continue to work through the public homepage. Never share your password or recovery key.

3. Complete your business profile. Start with a customer, enquiry or task, then build from your own business.

4. Wait for saving to finish. Use the same account on other devices. Reload saved records before retrying an uncertain save.

Choose the right place for each record

Customers, enquiries, jobs and calendar: organise work and follow-ups. Quotes and invoices: prepare line-item documents, review GST settings, costs and margins, and record decisions and payments manually.

Business records: edit existing customers/suppliers, priorities, income/expenses, balance-only invoices, file references and training inside the main app. Original IDs, links and fields are preserved.

Business-record balances remain separate from quote-based invoices and job totals. File references describe locations; they do not upload attachments.

MEMBERSHIP & EVERYDAY USE

Know your membership. Keep your records.

Choose one purchase route

Payhip: USD $24.55 initially ($19 setup plus $5.55 first month), then USD $5.55/month until cancelled.
Gumroad: USD $9 one-time setup plus USD $5.55 monthly membership. USD $14.55 initially across two required purchases, then USD $5.55/month until cancelled.

Applicable taxes appear at checkout. Existing customers retain their agreed provider and price. Use the same email for both Gumroad purchases. Do not buy setup again at renewal.

Exports and recovery

Use Settings in the rich workspace to export its records. Use Business records > Export all records (JSON) for the original six record types. Export both if you use both areas. CSV is available for business-record lists. Store independent copies securely.

Encrypted application backups are operated, but a download or successful offsite copy does not prove complete restoration. No fixed recovery time or full Auth/Storage restoration guarantee is included.

Cancellation, refunds and support

Manage your subscription through your original Payhip customer account or Gumroad receipt/Library. Keep the confirmation and check the provider's effective date. Cancellation, refunds and account closure are separate actions. If access is missing, contact support before purchasing again.

Current terms, privacy, refund and support policies

Email supportchilliai@gmail.com with your purchase provider and a short description. Do not send passwords, full card details, recovery keys or licence keys.

Review before sharing

MINTNERVE is not accounting, payroll or tax-lodgement software. Recorded payments do not move money. Documents are not automatically emailed; customer acceptance portal, AI assistance and shared-team permissions are not included in the public service. Review business details, GST settings and documents before sharing.
